STAR/STELLA

STAR

We've been here for four hours. My foot has been itching for two.

STELLA

I still can't get a signal. That one blip appears then disappears. My phone is teasing and taunting me.

STAR

Here, let me try again.

STAR

Hey! I got a signal! I'll call my brother! Oh it's his machine!

STAR/STELLA

We're stuck in the backyard! Help!

STELLA

Right now, Cindy is heading over to Brandon's work. She's going to make a fool of herself and we're going to look like idiots. No one is ever going to want to use Help Incorporated. One client and we're already ruined.

STAR

I still can't believe we're charging people to help them

STELLA

Well, if it bothers you so much, take your portion of the money and do something positive with it.

STAR

I could take my portion of the money, and do something positive with it!

STELLA

Yea, it would be like recycling help.

STAR

I could buy that purple birdbath for my park beautification project. You know, they did a study and found that purple is the most soothing color for birds?

STELLA

Great. Buy the soothing purple birdbath. Donate the money to dolphins. Adopt a hobo. Anything you want...

STAR

This is all your fault. You and your lies. You're like this windmill. You blow lots of hot air, and...spin...and...okay, maybe you're not so much like the windmill. But you're a liar!

STELLA

You're probably happy we're stuck here. Now you can have Brandon all to yourself. In fact, I think you got us stuck in this cement on purpose.

STAR

Why would I do that? Brandon's gonna find out we told Cindy she had a date with him and he's gonna think I'm a mean, awful, rotten girl.

STELLA

I still think you did this on purpose.

STAR

The fact that I like Brandon means nothing to you. All you care about is making money and this stupid business.

STELLA

I've been trying to make money to pay for that stupid window you broke. And maybe have a little left over for some boots.

STAR NOTICES MARSHALL INSIDE THE HOUSE

STAR

It's Marshall! Maybe there's still time to get to Brandon before Cindy does and fix this whole mess.

STAR/STELLA

Marshall! Marshall!

MARSHALL CLEARLY DOESN'T SEE THEM

STELLA

Use the phone!

STAR HURLS THE PHONE TOWARDS THE WINDOW. BEAT.

STELLA

You know, I meant for you to use the phone to call him.
